What is FillPerfect

FillPerfect is an add-on for Internet Explorer designed specifically for job hunters. With FillPerfect form filler you can quickly and accurately complete all types of forms. From filling out online employment forms to scouring the internet through hundreds of jobs, we understand that the process of job searching is tedious and time consuming. Often it involves filling out the same information over and over, day after day. Therefore, we created Fill Perfect so that you can spend your time actually looking for the job that's right for you, instead of repeatedly filling out forms.

Plainly stated, Fill Perfect makes online job hunting easy, and hassle-free. Fill Perfect integrates with Microsoft's Internet Explorer web browser to fill out job applications and other online forms with a click of a button, saving you valuable time. Fill Perfect instantly and automatically fills in most common fields found on job applications, including:

- Basic profile information
- Phone and email contacts
- Education history
- Job history
- Military service
- References
- Career objectives
- ...even your entire resume and cover letter!

Fill Perfect form filler also fills in all types of input fields including text input, selection lists, check boxes and radio buttons. Unique and site-specific fields that Fill Perfect cannot handle are highlighted in yellow, making completion of each form a super snap. No more looking up phone numbers, emails for references or employment information from years ago. No more worries about typographical or other errors caused by retyping the same information repeatedly. No more postponed job submissions because you just ran out of time.

Occasionally, highly customized controls on a form may prevent FillPerfect from highlighting an unsupported field.

The AutoFill button in the FillPerfect toolbar contains a checkbox. Click that checkbox to toggle the AutoFill Lock state.
